BASE-BALL

LIVELY TIMES AMONG LOCAL BASE-BALL CLUBS.

Bloomfield Defeated North End—Waterloo lost to O. N. T. High School won from Montclair and lost to Englewood. Brookside School defeated Waterbury School. Decoration Day Games.

The Bloomfield Base-ball Club had an easy proposition in the North End last Saturday afternoon. The visitors were outclassed from the start, and as Waterloo is again showing his old time form, they made but few hits. On the other hand the local boys had their eye on the ball and gave a good exhibition of batting and base running. The score:

Beginning this afternoon the teams that will meet the Bloomfield Club during the rest of the season will be of first-class calibre only. This afternoon the home team will have its hands full when it meets the strong Richmond A. C. of Staten Island. This club is one of the fastest athletic club teams in the East, and was started by Jim Muttie of the old New York Club. The visitors line-up will be: Baley, centerfield; Darcy, right field; McKenna, left field; Tyson, third base; Featherston, second base; Mackey, first base; Fitzpatrick, short stop; Seaton, pitcher, and Robinson, catcher.

On Decoration Day there will be two games, the morning game at 10:30 being with the Montclair A. A. This club has not been defeated this year, and their backers claim they are going to maintain this record. In the afternoon at 4 o'clock the Senators, the strong semi-professional team of Brooklyn, will cross bats with Bloomfield, and a great game is expected.

The Brookside Grammar School team defeated the Waterbury Grammar School team on the latter's grounds by the score of 10 to 4. The good batting of the Brookside, won the game, I. Condit's batting and the fielding of J. Dale of Brookside and W. Jensen of Waterbury were the features. The score:

Bloomfield High School's nine defeated Montclair on the Williamson Oval Saturday morning by the score of 13 to 7. It was Bloomfield High's eighth straight victory. The game was slow because of the great number of hits and errors. Moffat allowed twelve hits and was replaced in the middle of the seventh inning by Wilson, who allowed but one hit. Tydemar was in line form, striking out nine men, giving three bases on balls and allowing but eight hits. Biggart had his eye on the ball, getting four hits out of five times at the bat. The score:

After winning eight straight victories the Bloomfield High School team went down before the Englewood High School on Wednesday. The first inning settled the game, for in that inning Englewood

FOURTH OF JULY 1865.

At five men across the plate. After this inning Bloomfield settled down and only let in two more runs. Tydemar and Arnold broke even with the batting honors, each getting three hits out of four times at the bat.

Tydemar now leads in batting with 383. Mix is second with 373. Sammis still holds his 1,000 in fielding. This morning the High School team will play Hackensack High School on the Williamson Avenue grounds. The score:

Aged Woman Hurt. Mrs. Elizabeth Erashold, mother of Mrs. Henry Treiber of Bloomfield Avenue, was severely hurt while alighting from a trolley car in front of her son-in-law's hotel, near the tracks of the West Orange branch of the Erie Railroad Sunday afternoon. She was returning from church, and as she stepped off the running board of the car the latter, it is said, started up too soon and she was thrown forward on her face.

The woman, who is nearly 75 years old, was rendered unconscious by the fall, and Dr. W. H. Van Gleason who attended her had her removed to the Mountaineer Hospital, Montclair. The large toe on her right foot was broken by her fall and the physicians at the hospital amputated it.

Celebrates Eightieth Birthday. A reception was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Julian L. Tutbill on Clinton street, last Friday evening, in honor of the eightieth birthday of their grandfather Mr. George E. Tutbill of New York. Three children, four grandchildren, and four great grandchildren were among the guests. Relatives were present from New York, Brooklyn, Stony point and Staten Island. Mr. Tutbill is still engaged in business and enjoys excellent health. He is strictly temperate, and attributes his present condition to the "simple life." The house was beautifully decorated, and an elaborate supper was served after which Mr. Tutbill was presented with a portrait of his wife and himself. His wife died in her sixty-fifth year.

Girl Hurt. A number of Poles were celebrating a wedding that had occurred in St. Valentine's Polish Catholic Church in Franklin Avenue Monday morning, when John Pulaski fired several shots from a revolver at the ground, causing the girl to fly up and some of it entered the right leg of May Wasowicz, a 12-year-old girl residing in Cross street, Waterbury. The girl, screaming with pain fell to the ground, and there was much excitement. It was thought at first that the girl was dead, and there was talk of laying violent hands on Pulaski until it was found that she was not. Dr. E. M. Ward extracted the gravel from the girl's leg.

Vallburg Track. The forthcoming week promises some rare sport among the cycle racing stars at the Vallburg board track, Newark. There are two meets on the taps, one for to-morrow afternoon and the other for the afternoon of Decoration Day. Five events are on the card for to-morrow, with a twenty-five mile amateur race as the feature. For Decoration Day, there will be a regular cycling carnival. Six races, a corker every one of them, has been framed up, and in addition to this big bill Willie Penn and Floyd Krebs are to meet in a match race, the best two out of three half-mile heats.

Former Bloomfielder Honored. Dr. James Fulton Perry, who recently was elected president of the Illinois State Medical Society, is well known in this city since 1838. He was born in Bloomfield, N. J., in 1834, and studied medicine at New York and in Germany. For a time he was a professor in the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Keokuk, Iowa. Dr. Perry has been president of the Military Tract Society of Illinois, and at present is a member of the House of Delegates of the American Medical Society. He has contributed freely to medical journals. —Chicago Record Herald.

A Surprise Party. Miss May Hodgkins of 14 Myrtle Avenue was given a surprise party at the home of Vivian Chester in Upper Montclair Monday night. It was attended by about forty guests. The decorations were purple and white lilacs and ferns. The committee in charge was composed of Vivian Chester, Mabel Fletcher, Elsie Harris and Dorothy Proctor.

REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

A Branch of the League for Limited Franchises and Equal Taxation Organized Here—Officers Elected and Committees Appointed—Much Local Interest in the New Political Organization.

The 1906 political campaign practically opened in this town Wednesday night when a branch of the Republican League for Limited Franchises and Equal Taxation was organized at a meeting held in the Essex County Building and Loan Association hall. The attendance at the meeting evidenced a lively interest in political matters that was indicative of a stirring campaign in the fall. The Bloomfield branch of the Republican League was formed at the behest of the county leaders in the league, who are anxious that organization preliminaries shall be attended to as early as possible in every municipality in the county. William Biggart was temporary chairman of Wednesday night's meeting. There were about thirty persons present, all of whom were men actively identified with political campaign work. Mr. Biggart made an address setting forth the object of calling the meeting and told of the purposes of the league.

The Bloomfield branch of the league was organized with the following officers: Chairman, Charles E. Underwood; vice-chairmen—First ward, Harry L. Osborne and Wm. Rawson; Second ward—Frederick Strom, Jr., and Wm. Fornoff; Third ward—John B. Conlan and Walter Elmer; secretary, Frederick K. Galt; treasurer, Frederick J. Ogden; executive committee, First ward—Wm. P. Sutphen, Wm. J. Worcester, Henry Wright and Joseph Charles; Second ward, first district—Thomas Rawson and H. P. Bowron; Third ward—Wm. Hildebrandt, Wm. Biggart, Charles Nicolai and Wm. Elmer. The members of the executive committee from the second district of the Second ward will be chosen at the next meeting. Chairman Underwood appointed a committee of three, consisting of Richard T. Cadmus, Harry White and George W. Cook, to draft a constitution and by-laws and report at the next meeting.

The organization of the league is the leading topic in local political circles, the fact that several members of the Essex County Republican Committee are prominently identified with the league is the cause of some comment. The league is a new political organization, the set of much speculation. From the new organization a machine that will sweep the town, it is believed, it has in its member, official management the men who are generally credited with getting out the vote at the primary elections. A startling element in the approaching campaign is George L. Record of Jersey City. He is one of the active and advisers of the new organization. It is obvious that if his committee are carried out to the Republican party, going to be torn to shreds here and elsewhere throughout the State. Here is a sample of the commands issued to the league by Mr. Record: "To make this contest successfully we must fight the machine all along the line, wherever we find it entrenched. The principal offices which are the key to the machine strength of this State are the Governorship and the United States Senatorship. These offices control a vast amount of patronage, the possession of which is absolutely essential to the machine. The United States Senators practically select all the federal employees in the State. These offices are bestowed in accordance with the demands of the local bosses in each county, and are thus used to strengthen the whole machine. That the corporations, acting through the State leaders, will endeavor to select the United States Senator to be elected next winter, goes without saying."

The logical interpretation of Mr. Record's command to the league is: "We must secure for the new machine all the offices and patronage now controlled by the State, county and local Republican organizations," and this machinery is to be used to elect a long standing party organization that has won the State from the Democratic party must be carried out in order that Mr. Record of Hudson County may secure the office of United States Senator from New Jersey and Essex County must surrender to Hudson.

Barner-Andre. Before a large number of friends in the Prospect Street Baptist Church, East Orange, where for two years he has ministered to the people as pastor, R. B. A. Barner was on Tuesday night married to Miss Carrie Elizabeth Andre of Suffern, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Samuel McBride, secretary of the American Baptist Home Missionary Society of New York. The best man was Rev. Mr. Gullison of Valley Stream, N. Y., and Miss Zula Crane of Trenton, Mo., was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Emma Church, Miss Sarah Carroll, Miss Gertrude Storms and Miss Harriet Storms. Robert Barner, Jr., Charles E. Kist, F. C. Ferguson and Ralph W. Hyatt were ushers.

Frank Banauk, a Polisher, was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury after an hour's deliberation in the Court of Oyer and Terminer Wednesday afternoon.

Banauk was charged with the murder of Thomas Hoff, a Pole, in January last. Hoff, with his family, resided in Henry street, this town, and Banauk boarded with Hoff. The circumstances attending the murder and the motive for it are familiar.

County Prosecutor Young conducted the case for the State, and Banauk was defended by James M. Trimble. The trial began on Monday and was concluded Wednesday evening. The only witnesses in the case were those called by the prosecution. The defense submitted no rebuttal evidence, but Mr. Trimble made a powerful plea before the jury in behalf of his client. Banauk's confession to the local police department was an important feature of the evidence.

Referring to this confession in his address, Mr. Trimble, taking up the paper and shaking it dramatically before the jurors, shouted: "I say that the men who witnessed it did not understand a word about it. It is a document without any force, without any meaning to anyone, except as Blum illuminated it. The defendant signed the paper, simply saying that he knew its contents. One man only warned the defendant as to the consequences of this statement, Policeman Blum. Think of it, in this question of life and death, only this one man, Blum, who understands the language of the defendant."

Mr. Trimble made a dissection of Blum's evidence, which, he said, was at variance with the words of the confession. "That confession is Blum's," he cried. "Blum, the defendant's fellow-countryman, who saw him within the danger of the gallows! Blum, who saw him rushing on to the gallows, voluntarily and determinedly, and Blum, who would have you believe that without influence, without flattery and without hope of getting a less punishment, he made that confession. Delusions or falsehoods, which?"

Referring to the part of Recorder Cadmus in obtaining the confession, Mr. Trimble exclaimed: "I never supposed I would live to see the day when a magistrate sworn to obey the law would take a man accused of capital crime and say he might as well take a revolver and blow out his brains. They were not his words, perhaps, but they meant that when he said Banauk should make a confession because he is guilty."

Later the lawyer touched upon Banauk's mental condition as he said: "I say no man ever confessed to an admission of crime that would send him to the gallows without three reasons, insanity, conscience and remorse. There never was a man who confessed to anything that would send him to the gallows at 25 years of age, with an avowed mother alive in Poland, who was in a state of sanity."

"If Banauk confessed, was it not that he was given reason to hope or else was intimidated? If Blum's evidence is true, I ask you if that is no evidence of duress. I believe the statement is all a fiction of that man's brain. You are dealing with a mad man's dream. You must decide that question before you finally decide this case. If Blum spoke the truth this man is crazy, as he seems to be."

Epworth League Election. Bromley Chapter, Epworth League, of the Park M. E. Church met at the home of Frederick H. Carl in Oakland Avenue Monday night and elected these officers for the year: President, Charles H. Madoe; first vice-president, Miss Lillian Galloway; second vice-president, Mrs. James L. Harbitt; third vice-president, Mrs. Raymond H. Daniels; fourth vice-president, Abram Wilson; secretary, Miss Zilla Cadmus; treasurer, Miss Edith Daker; superintendent of Junior League, Rev. Dr. Jesse L. Harbitt.

Glen Ridge Won. In the East Jersey golf tournament at Elizabeth Saturday afternoon the Glen Ridge golfers, on the Suburban Club links, defeated the home team club. Milligan and Waterbury won over Pierson and Boyce, giving Glen Ridge the advantage 3 to 2. The score:

Will Preach to Veterans. The Rev. T. Buntinghausen of the Park Avenue German Presbyterian Church has extended an invitation to the members of John M. Wheeler Post, G. A. R. and John J. H. Love Camp, Sons of Veterans, of Montclair, to attend service in his church Sunday night. Mr. Buntinghausen is a member of Love Camp. On account of a previous engagement to attend the Park Methodist Church, the members of the W. S. Pierson Post will be unable to accompany the Montclair veterans.

MEMORIAL DAY.

GRAND ARMY PROGRAMME FOR OBSERVANCE OF THE DAY.

Will Attend Service in Park M. E. Church Sunday Evening—Exercises in the Schools Tuesday Afternoon—Public Meeting in Jarvis Memorial Hall Wednesday Evening.

The members of William S. Pierson Post, Grand Army of the Republic, have arranged an appropriate programme for the observance of Memorial Day on Wednesday, May 30, in this town. Death of late years has made great inroads in the membership of this post, and the few remaining members have reached an age when the undertaking of the management of a jubilee function like the celebration of Memorial Day is a serious matter to them, and the veterans had practically decided to let the day go by without any exercise of a public character. Stimulated, however, by the urgings of the younger element represented in the auxiliary organization known as the Sons of Veterans, the matter was reconsidered and the usual programme of ceremonies decided upon, and the Town Council made the customary appropriation towards defraying the expense.

The day will be ushered in with a sunrise salute by the Bloomfield Battery. At 8:45 o'clock on Wednesday morning the Grand Army comrades and their friends will assemble at the soldiers' plot in Bloomfield Cemetery and decorate the graves of their fallen comrades. Flowers for this purpose will be collected and arranged in bouquets by the members of the Woman's Relief Corps. All comrades, whether members of Pierson Post or not, and all honorably discharged officers, soldiers and sailors of the civil war and the Spanish-American war, are cordially invited to attend all the exercises in connection with Memorial Day, including the church services on Sunday evening, the 27th, the public school exercises on the afternoon of the 29th, and all the Wednesday exercises.

The post having accepted an invitation from Rev. Dr. J. L. Harbitt of the Park M. E. Church to unite with them in service on the Sunday preceding Memorial Day, will assemble in uniform as far as possible at Bloomfield Centre, office of Nathan Russell, ready to move at 7:15 P. M. sharp.

On Wednesday evening there will be a public service in Jarvis Memorial Hall under the auspices of the Grand Army Post. There will be vocal and instrumental music, recitations and addresses. The High School Glee Club, conducted by F. J. Smith, will sing, and Rev. Benjamin Otis of Jersey City will deliver the oration.

On the morning of Memorial Day, at nine o'clock, mass will be held in the chapel in Mt. Olivet Cemetery in memory of the deceased soldiers and sailors buried in that cemetery, and the soldiers' graves there will be decorated.

Years ago members of Essex Truck Company adopted the custom followed by the Grand Army men, and every year appoint a committee to decorate the graves of departed members of that company on Memorial Day. The custom has been adopted by other companies in the fire department, and all firemen's graves will be decorated.

Exercises appropriate to Memorial Day will be held in all the public schools of this town on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. Veterans of the civil war who are members of William S. Pierson Post, G. A. R., have been assigned to make addresses at each school. In addition to the addresses there will be a programme of exercises by the school children, chiefly of a musical character. The arrangement of speakers is as follows: High School, Francis Dannbacher; Berkeley, John M. Bancroft; Brookside, Levi D. Streets; Center, Samuel G. Hayter; Brookside, Nathan Russell; Oliver Lake, Richards K. Schuyler and Theodore M. Cadmus; Fairview, George S. Sammis; Waterbury, W. R. Moore.

On Tuesday afternoon, the 29th, at one o'clock, in Parochial School of the Sacred Heart, Comrade Samuel G. Hayter of Pierson Post will make an address. The exercises will open with singing by the school of "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean;" declamation, "The Meaning of the Day," C. Peterson; recitation, "Decoration Day," M. McNally; paper, "Origin of Memorial Day," Leonard Conway; chorus, "The Star Spangled Banner;" essay, "Why We Love the Day," Katherine Ryan; pledge salute and song, "America."

Those having flowers to spare are asked to send them to Mrs. Smith, 42 State street, before or by Tuesday, the 29th inst., at noon. Members of the Woman's Relief Corps will meet to tie bouquets in the afternoon to decorate the soldiers' graves. School children are requested to gather wild flowers on Monday afternoon and take them to the school Tuesday, and they will be called for. The next meeting of the corps will be held on Wednesday afternoon, June 5. State Convention in Paterson on June 14 and 15.
